Polish Diplomat Won't Have To Return Home

LONDON (AP)—A 26-year-old Polish diplomat was granted asylum in Britain today after telling police how he sidestepped a Communist move to ship him back to his Red-ruled homeland.

Mieczyslaw Regula, assistant to the Polish commercial attaché here, came out of four days' hiding and the British Home Office said he could stay in Britain.

Regula was to have sailed for Poland tomorrow. He was reportedly recalled after his embassy chiefs had turned him in as a suspected sympathizer with the West.

The London Daily Mail quoted Regula as saying his blonde wife, Melania, was a Communist fanatic who spied on him in their quarters in the embassy. Regula said he told her he would not live with her again and that she went back to Poland with their 2-year-old daughter, Margaretta. Their son, Richard, stayed in London with the father.

Regula told the Daily Mail that a friend tipped him off the Communists knew he planned to seek asylum. He said he grabbed his son and made a dash past embassy officials out of the building to a waiting taxi.

The young diplomat said he had planned his flight to the West for years after being angered by "Soviet exploitation of Poland" after World War II.

Secretary Won't Stand Trial For Slaying Russian

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edith Louise Hough, a 41-year-old secretary, has been found mentally incompetent to stand trial for the Memorial Day slaying of a Russian translator for the Voice of America.

The report was issued yesterday by Dr. Addison M. Duval of St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Miss Hough has been under mental observation at the institution for the past 60 days.

The finding means the woman will be committed to the hospital until she is declared mentally competent to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting of Zorab Abdusheli.

Miss Hough and Abdusheli were engaged at one time. The shooting occurred at Miss Hough's apartment about two weeks after the translator had married another woman, Mrs. Abdusheli said her husband had gone to see Miss Hough to express sympathy on the death of Miss Hough's father.

Irving Langmuir, Noted Scientist, Dies At Age 76

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Rain-maker Irving Langmuir, one of the scientific greats of the 20th century, died here yesterday. He was 76.

Dr. Langmuir was vacationing on Cape Cod when he suffered a heart attack Wednesday. He died at the home of a nephew, Dr. David Langmuir, in Falmouth.

Langmuir won many scientific honors, including the Nobel prize in chemistry in 1932. Besides pioneering in artificial rainmaking, he developed techniques that led to brighter and cheaper electric

Federal Men Search For Racketeers

Missing Witnesses In Senate Probe Reported 'On Lam'

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal marshals pressed their search today for five witnesses sought by the Senate Rackets Investigating committee. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said the five "are on the lam."

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said staff aides and the U.S. marshal's office in New York have been unable to locate any of the five, wanted as witnesses in an inquiry into New York labor rackets.

Names Pair

Kennedy named only two of those sought: Benny (The Bug) Ross, a former Teamsters Union organizer, and Leonard Geiger, vice president of Joint Council 16, governing body of the Teamsters' 125,000 members in New York.

The committee, meanwhile, prepared to call some top international Teamsters officials—including the union's Midwest boss, James R. Hoffa—for questioning about activities in New York.

Thomas L. Hickey, a Teamsters vice president, testified yesterday that Hoffa, heir-apparent to retiring Teamsters President Dave Beck, originated the idea of forming phantom Teamsters locals to vote in the union's New York council election in 1956.

Locals Called Fraud

Hickey and another witness, Martin Lacey, said the purpose of the phantom locals was to get additional votes to elect John J. O'Rourke president of the council, and thus place it under Hoffa's control.

Lacey, the man O'Rourke unseated, called the phony locals a fraud against the union. O'Rourke invoked the Fifth Amendment Thursday in refusing to answer all questions about the election and about any relationship with Hoffa.

Hickey announced from the witness chair he is a candidate for the union's presidency, and said he thinks there will be moves to get rid of him as a union official when the Teamsters hold their convention next month.

Hoffa will be questioned by the committee next week in the climax of the committee's exploration into McClellan's charge that Hoffa formed a corrupt alliance with labor racketeers Johnny Dio and Tony (Ducks) Corallo to increase his union power.

Navy To Stop Training Men At Bainbridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy plans to discontinue recruit training at Bainbridge, Md., by the end of this year.

The installation will be used only to train women and schools for specialists.

This will cut the number of personnel stationed at Bainbridge from 12,000 to 4,500.

"These reductions are necessary adjustments to permit the most effective employment of personnel and funds," the Navy said. Sen. Beall (R-Md.) disagreed.

He reminded Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. that the chief of naval personnel last May promised that recruit training would continue at Bainbridge.

"These plans are based on the current and foreseeable need for recruit and technical training, the necessity for geographical decentralization in order to economize on travel funds and the requirement for use in the event of a national emergency," the Naval chief said four months ago.

Beall maintained that nothing has changed since then.

Solo Honeymoon Ends In Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Dancer Beatrice Allen Harris says in a separate maintenance suit that theatrical producer Jed Harris went to Europe without her during their honeymoon.

Mrs. Harris, 29, said Harris, 57, made her feel "unwanted and rejected." They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., last April 1 and separated Aug. 9.

She asks $1,510 a month temporary alimony, on which there will be a hearing next Friday, and $1,000 a month support after separate maintenance is granted. She gave physical and mental cruelty as grounds for the suit.

Red Army Newspaper Raps Sen. Kefauver

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet army newspaper Red Star today accused Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of having wild dreams about liberating Iron Curtain countries.

The newspaper assailed what it called Kefauver's proposal for creating a U. N. military force. It added that such a force "would be ready for action whenever American congressmen consider the situation suitable for 'liberating countries with peoples democracies.'"

It charged that Kefauver is "encouraging with his instigating calls Hungarian reactionary scum to new crimes against the people's power." It warned Kefauver:

"No matter how much you rave, no matter how much you excite reactionary Western forces they will never succeed in undermining the people's system in Socialist countries, including Hungary. Are not American congressmen aware that the Warsaw pact has been called upon to render harmless dangerous results resulting from creation of the North Atlantic bloc?"

Dr. Foote Named To Defense Job

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower today nominated Dr. Paul Darwin Foote, Washington, D. C., physicist, as assistant Secretary of Defense for research and engineering.

Dr. Foote, 69, a Republican, has been serving as a consultant to the Defense Department since retiring as a Gulf Oil Corporation vice president in 1954.

He will take the place of two assistant secretaries who resigned several months ago. The jobs of assistant secretary for engineering and for research and development have been combined into one post.

Disarmament Talks Pose Technical Staff Problem

By WATSON SIMS

LONDON (AP)—If the U. N. disarmament subcommittee's talks drag on much longer, many members of the technical staff may find themselves needed for duty in two places at the same time.

Should the London five-power arms talks—which already have lasted five months—go on another three weeks, the conference might collide with the convening of the U. N. General Assembly in New York.

The Assembly usually meets the third Tuesday in September. But this year the United States has asked that the Assembly go into special session a week earlier to consider a subcommittee report on the Hungarian revolt.

The 11th Assembly recessed last March subject to the call of its president, Prince Wan Wathayakon of Thailand, if it was decided further action on Hungary was necessary.

The technical side of the disarmament conference is handled by some 80 members of the U. N. Secretariat, under Dr. Dragoslav Protitch, undersecretary for Security Council affairs.

Most of the interpreters, parliamentary recorders and administrative employees now assigned to London normally have other duties in New York when the Assembly meets. In the past there has been no conflict.

The present prospect of a conflict in assignments has led to speculation in Western quarters that the disarmament conference, if it continues, might be shifted to New York later this year. No decision has been reached.

The subcommittee technically is free to meet anywhere that can be agreed upon by its five members—the United States, Russia, France, Britain and Canada.

U. S. Forces Russians On Broadcasts

State Department Proposes Swap Of Radio, Television

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has challenged Russia to put up or shut up on the issue of exchanging broadcasts.

The State Department, in a note announced yesterday, proposed a swap of delegations of radio and television experts next month to make technical studies preliminary to negotiating a possible schedule of broadcasts.

The issue has figured in discussions between Moscow and Washington since the summit conference and the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in 1955.

The U. S. government wants Russia to open its airways to uncensored programs from this and other Western countries. But American officials are by no means certain that the Soviets intend to do so.

Press For Results

State Department authorities believe that if the Soviets will now agree to an exchange of experts it may indicate a willingness on Russia's part to undertake an actual exchange of programs.

The technique of challenging the Soviets to stop talking generalities and get down to business is a standard one when Western governments decide to press for results—or alternatively to expose a Soviet maneuver as propaganda.

The note which the State Department made public replied to a July 26 Moscow memorandum suggesting further discussion of proposals for expanding the cultural exchange program, including broadcasts.

Fingerprint Question

The Soviets also raised again their complaints against a legal requirement that visitors to this country—except diplomats and government officials—be fingerprinted.

The Eisenhower administration has asked Congress to pass legislation at this session modifying the fingerprinting requirement.

The House Judiciary Committee yesterday approved legislation to waive fingerprinting for foreign visitors to this country.

The State Department note told the Russians it is not the fingerprinting requirement but "the attitude of the Soviet government toward that requirement" which creates a barrier to the expansion of contacts between citizens of the two countries.

Army Officer's Trial Slated To Open Thursday

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—A battle-field-decorated Army lieutenant colonel goes on trial here Thursday on four counts of negligent homicide in the firing-range deaths of four infantrymen June 22.

In addition, Lt. Col. Walter P. Berger, 41, of Philadelphia, faces a charge of dereliction of duty. He will be tried by a general court-martial.

He was second in command during an attack demonstration in which several 4.2-inch mortar shells landed among an infantry platoon advancing on a hill.

Berger is a 16-year veteran of the Army and was awarded the Bronze Star with one oak leaf cluster for battlefield valor.

Yesterday, Lt. Rosser L. Moody Jr. of Toano, Va., was acquitted by a general court-martial board on four counts of negligent homicide after he admitted erroneously transcribing firing data.

Moody's defense counsel, Lt. Gordon P. Ralph, argued in court that the negligence of Berger, not that of Moody, was the cause of the accident.

Alabama Battles KKK Terrorism

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom has ordered the State Department of Public Safety to help local law officers bring an end to night-riding terrorism of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama.

Folsom last night ordered Safety Director Bill Lyerly to give full assistance in actions against recent Klan demonstrations.

Six Negroes were beaten by klansmen in Maplesville, Ala., last weekend, and Sheriff James Brock of Conecuh County reported Thursday that four Negroes were beaten by klansmen at Evergreen, Ala., Aug. 8.

Folsom directed Lyerly to aid local law enforcement officers "in order that all our people may be protected from hoodlumism."

The governor asked for regular reports of state investigators who already have been looking into night riding activities of the Klan.

Myers Family Prepare Move In New Home

Levittown Section Up In Arms Over Negro Family House

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A Negro family prepared today to move into their newly purchased home in this all-white community of 60,000 suburbanites.

The coming of the Myers family to this planned residential section in southwestern Pennsylvania has aroused a storm among a number of homeowners. A few nights ago, a crowd of some 500 gathered around the ranch-style structure, and rocks were hurled through the picture windows. Five persons were arrested for failure to heed police orders to move on.

In neighborhood meetings, on picket lines which formed in front of "the house," in stores and on street corners, people asked one another: "What are we going to do?"

The new owner of the house, William J. Myers, 32, an equipment tester studying for an engineering degree, said quietly but firmly: "I bought the home and I intend to live there."

James Newell, a leader of the Levittown Betterment Assn., suggested "an orderly picket line in front of the house" to a crowd of some 500 at a backyard meeting. When the presence of a detachment of state troopers was mentioned, Newell said he would not sanction law-breaking.

Naval Academy Airfield Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee has agreed that a Naval Academy airfield should be located at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

It approved a $3,200,000 authorization for the controversial project and stipulated that it should be located at Andrews.

Some residents in the Annapolis area have objected to an airport in that neighborhood.

Rep. Lankford (D-Md.), who led opposition to previously suggested sites in his congressional district, said he has no objection to the Andrews site.

The Naval Academy field was part of a $1,600,000,000 military construction authorization bill on which differences were worked out by the conferees yesterday. The conferees' agreement is subject to House and Senate approval.

Counterspy's Info Might Clear Aspects Espionage

NEW YORK (AP)—A spokesman for the House Committee on Un-American Activities says "American counterspy Boris Morros has given testimony which might clear up important aspects of Soviet espionage in this country."

Morros, 62, is a naturalized American of Russian birth. His role as counterspy came to light with the breaking of the case of Myra and Jack Sobel and Jacob Abram, who have admitted spying for the Soviet Union.

Morros is scheduled to appear next week before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in Washington.

Democrats See Action Next Week

House Acceptance Will Go Long Way To Settle Dispute

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Martin R-Mass said after a talk with President Eisenhower today that Republicans are "still standing pat" for a stronger civil rights bill than that being pushed by House Democrats.

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sits down today with House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, presumably to discuss moves to end the civil rights deadlock.

In advance of the White House conference, all signs pointed to GOP capitulation to Democratic insistence on the Senate civil rights bill with a modified jury trial provision.

So confident were Democrats, they tentatively scheduled House action on the bill for next Wednesday or Thursday.

House acceptance of the Senate bill, with a House amendment limiting the jury trial proviso to voting rights cases only, would not end the struggle. But it would go a long way in that direction.

The bill still would have to go back to the Senate for concurrence in the House amendment. Democrats, however, contend senators will agree to this change—but to nothing more.

But there was some talk in the Senate about a two-part change in the Senate bill. One part would limit the jury trial requirement to voting rights cases. The other would give the attorney general authority to intervene in local rights cases in general, if local authorities should ask him to do so.

How far House Republicans will go in yielding ground on Eisenhower's civil rights program remained to be seen.

Martin and four key GOP members of the Rules Committee late yesterday issued a statement asserting "we cannot compromise away" a principle that they said involves the freedom of millions of Americans.

"This does not mean that we will not agree to a measure different from the House bill," they said. "We want a workable bill as quickly as possible, and we are open-minded about the form which it takes."

"But there is a point beyond which we will not go. We have fought too long to now accept a victory in name only."

Republicans will have an opportunity to make a fight for their program if the bill comes to the floor next week.

Democrats, however, appeared confident they have the votes—including some of the GOP variety—to turn back any attempt to rewrite the bill on the floor.

One Brazilian Lost, 10 Saved In Plane Crash

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—One Brazilian crewman was lost in shark-infested waters about 300 yards off the Dominican north coast yesterday after an airliner was ditched. Ten other crewmen were rescued.

The airliner, a super Constellation owned by the Brazilian Varig Airlines, was being ferried from Ciudad Trujillo to New York City for repairs when it went down.

The four-engine plane flew here northbound from Buenos Aires with its No. 2 engine out. The 32 New York-bound passengers disembarked and Capt. Gerald Kipping then took the plane on toward New York, nearest major maintenance point for Varig.

About an hour out Kipping radioed that further trouble had reduced him to one functioning engine. He tried to come back to the north coast airport at Puerto Plata but didn't have power to make it.

Dale Named Superintendent C&O Historical Park Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former park ranger has been named superintendent of the new Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Historical Park project.

Edwin M. Dale, superintendent at Harpers Ferry National Monument in West Virginia, was named to the new post by Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service. Dale will have headquarters in Hagerstown, Md. Before going to Harpers Ferry, Dale was chief park ranger for the Blue Ridge Parkway in Virginia.

Legislation is before Congress to establish a national historical park taking in 165 miles along the old canal right-of-way between Great Falls and Cumberland, Md.

Wirth said plans include restoration of the old canal structures, development of recreational and historical centers of interest, and provision for suitable access roads, parking areas, picnic and camp grounds, and boating facilities.

Responsibility for the improvements will be shifted from Washington to the new Hagerstown office, Wirth said.

Witness Claims O'Hara Magazine Story Is True

By JACK LEFLER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Confidential magazine, fighting libel charges, has turned its defense guns on actress Maureen O'Hara in the opening stage of the magazine's effort to prove that its stories about stars were true.

When the defense launched its case yesterday afternoon a witness testified that he ordered the red-haired Miss O'Hara and an unidentified Latin lover out of a Hollywood theater after he had twice discovered them in amorous embraces.

Such a story — which Miss O'Hara has denied — appeared in the March 1957 Confidential under the title, "When Maureen O'Hara Cuddled in Row 35."

The man who said he saw and told is independent movie producer James Craig. He flew in from London and testified that the story as published by Confidential was correct.

To Fight Charges

The defense said it will fight the criminal libel charges against Confidential and Whisper magazines by endeavoring to establish in court the truth of the articles.

Craig testified the incident occurred in November 1953 when he was assistant manager of Grauman's Chinese Theater.

He said Miss O'Hara and a man were holding hands when they entered the theater.

He said about an hour later an usher came to him and asked him to check on a couple sitting in the rear row.

"I went into the theater to investigate," Craig said. "Miss O'Hara was lying across three seats, over his lap."

He said he turned his flashlight on the pair and "they jumped to attention and resumed their seats."

Craig said he returned to the foyer and later the usher came back and told him: "They're at it again."

Craig said he went to the rear row.

Sure It Was Her

"Miss O'Hara was sitting on his lap," he related. "I told them they must leave. They said they were ready to go away."

Craig said he was sure it was Miss O'Hara because he had seen her several times before, in person, and that he had seen her on the screen.

Craig testified he told the incident to Michael Mourant-Smith, Confidential's European correspondent. He said the story was

MY FRIEND

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he used to say people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks for your good fortune."

The Church, he used to say, had acted as a balance wheel for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times. Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people, who in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to the oncoming generations. I hope I can impress Grandpa Brown's Faith and Wisdom upon others as I was impressed by him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mitzi Gaynor Shelved After Making Hit In Movie About Show Business

MITZI AND HUSBAND JACK BEAN: Before she met him she was the girl on Hollywood's "Not Wanted" shelf.

SUDDEN STARDOM: At 18 Mitzi played the "other woman" in "My Blue Heaven."

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — "Mitzi Gaynor," more than one film critic said in 1954, "gave a stand out performance in Irving Berlin's 'There's No Business Like Show Business.'" But Mitzi, left standing outside the 20th Century-Fox studio by a contract termination notice, had discovered "the headaches, the heartbreaks, the flops" in the lyrics of Berlin's song hit.

One day she was a glamorous $1,500 a week movie star.

The next day she was out of a job. For a year she didn't face a movie camera. Why? How did it happen? She was talented and physically gorgeous.

About to leave for the lush tropical island of Kauai in the Hawaiian Islands to play Nurse Nellie Forbush in the film version of "South Pacific," Mitzi Gaynor told me why and how it happened.

Movie stardom came to her so quickly at the age of 18 that she now knows, and admits, "I wasn't ready."

When Hollywood tacked a star on her dressing room door in 1950, she had played 1,000 hours with USO shows as a talented kiddie who danced and did impersonations of Carmen Miranda. At 14 she danced a comedy hit in the Los Angeles Light Opera production of "Roberts" and went on to bigger roles in the touring stage musicals, "Song of Norway," "Louisiana Purchase," and "Naughty Marietta."

questions for her services. The studio said "No." "Can I do an act in Las Vegas?" Mitzi asked. The studio said "No." "Television?" The studio said "No," with even more emphasis.

For a year before making "There's No Business Like Show Business," Mitzi didn't even visit the studio and no one from the studio called her. Or if they did Mitzi wasn't home. She had become Hollywood's girl-on-the-go. Desperate to be "wanted," to have an audience, she became a publicity and party hound. In a year she gained 30 pounds.

Then she met Jack Bean, who counseled her about her career and, more important, about her role as a "human being" named Mitzi Gaynor, serious about her career. She discarded Mitzi Gerber, a little girl still doing USO show imitations, wearing frilly clothes, big earrings and sounding like a one-woman chain gang because of all the bracelets she liked to wear.

Studying all the while with well-known ballet dance teachers, Mitzi, who learned her first dance steps at the age of four from an aunt in Chicago, where she was born, finally attracted Hollywood's attention. She caught Hollywood's eye with Walter Slezak in "The Great Waltz" — her performance did, that is, and not because she lost her petticoat on stage one night in San Francisco while waltzing with Slezak.

"One day," Mitzi told me, "I was making $135 a week. The next day I had a $1,000 a week movie contract. It wasn't long before I couldn't pick up a magazine or a newspaper without seeing a photograph of myself. I didn't practice my dancing any more I thought I was pretty popular."

"I looked on Hollywood and the studio as a sort of dream world. I saw no reason to improve on my talents. I thought I had arrived. And I thought I had to be a personality girl 24 hours a day. I was dancing in big expensive movies but I hadn't grown up."

"I was the clown who liked to yell 'lunch' on the set. I was always hamming it up — yelling and screaming and wrestling on the set with members of the crew. And I said a lot of funny things — I thought."

It wasn't long before Mitzi was starring in a fan magazine soap opera, too. The headlines read, "Will Mitzi Gaynor Marry Richard Coyle?" "Are Mitzi and Dick Secretly Married?"

Richard Coyle is a Los Angeles attorney, 11 years Mitzi's senior. They met after her last performance in "The Great Waltz." For three years they were engaged. They were waiting to marry, Mitzi said, until she was 21. She was keeping a promise to her mother.

Fifteen days after she was 21 Mitzi broke the engagement.

Two years later she married handsome Jack Bean, then a movie agent and now a Los Angeles industrial public relations counselor. Today Mitzi admits, "Marrying Jack is the best thing that ever happened to me. He helped me get Mitzi Gerber out of my hair."

But before meeting Jack, Mitzi was the girl on Hollywood's "Not Wanted" shelf. She made only one film in 1952 and then, waiting for Walter Lang to recover from a serious illness so he could direct "There's No Business Like Show Business," the studio let Mitzi sit for another year while paying her then $1,500 a week salary.

That sounds great to some people but in show business applause, not money, feeds a performer's soul. Mitzi asked to be loaned out and the studio received requests for her services. The studio said "No."

Then she met Jack Bean, who counseled her about her career and, more important, about her role as a "human being" named Mitzi Gaynor, serious about her career.

Eve Arden's New TV Show Set For Fall

By CHARLES DENTON
HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Eve Arden is busy being herself these days—with relish.

For the first time in years of trouping, explains the erstwhile TV schoolmarm, she's found a role that least comes close to fitting her real personality. And to put the record straight she is not the wisecracking, predatory female Mr. Chips she played for so many years.

If all goes well, she hopes to wind up comfortably "typed" as a considerably more dignified and infinitely less man-hungry character than "Our Miss Brooks" ever could hope to be. The new "Eve Arden Show," which bows in on CBS in the fall, is an outgrowth of Emily Kimbrough's tickling book about one of her lecture tours and the problems of a career woman with moppets dangling from the ribbons of her tea dress.

Eve has a different career and a few more heirs and heiresses than the original. But the differences are far less important to her than the similarities between her off-screen life with husband Brooks West and four youngsters and the character she is playing.

"For one thing," she says easily, "I don't have to strive as hard because this is closer to me, being a mother. It's more naturalistic, and it's a little gentler form of comedy."

"When I stopped 'Our Miss Brooks' a year and four months ago, I was dissatisfied with it. I began to be so identified with it. I WAS Miss Brooks to everyone. "For a while I didn't even think about television. I wanted to sit back and see what developed. So, in a way, I've been practicing for this by being a mother. I felt the kids needed me."

But it wasn't long before Eve was prowling through scripts again in quest of a video series. The problem was to find a role that would separate the little blonde gently from the Miss Brooks characterization without sacrificing the public acceptance she gained in trying to hammer English into the skulls of Madison High's clientele for five years on radio and four on TV.

"We deliberately set out to find a character I knew a little more about," Eve says, something closer to home. What I wanted to play was a career mother, which hasn't been done before on television.

"How far we can go with it remains to be seen, of course." The worrisome question in any such radical change of format for an established performer is whether he or she can break out of the original mold in the public mind. No star with as successful a series as "Our Miss Brooks" has ever tried it on TV.

TV Series Discussed By Silvers And Merman

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK—(INS)—Phil Silvers and Ethel Merman are discussing a TV series . . . Balding Pug Paoli Rossi (last night's fife) looks like Ben Blue . . . 20th Century-Fox is considering starting a new record label . . . Sales veep of a network will announce other plans if he can find some in a hurry . . . Dean Martin as of yesterday was insisting on six NBC-TV shows, his agency (MCA) wants him to do eight, NBC wants him for 13 but it looks like a guest-star policy (Belafonte, Merman, etc.) will alternate with Polly Bergen in the Saturday night series to be called "The Oasis Room." . . . We think, a "Rainbow Room" series would be just what glamor ordered . . . Terry Moore told us yesterday she's "dying" to do a Playhouse 90 . . . Dorothy Hart not only won last night's plunging cleavage award, but the bouncing prize, too, on "Pantomime Quiz." . . . On which Mike Stokely, so youthful looking only a season or so ago, seems to have aged (probably worries a lot).

Sponsor mag cites the newest trend: "High fashion models replacing the homey girl-next-door type." (Those skinny characters in TV, too?) . . . Canada now boasts 2,650,000 TV homes . . . About half of N. Y. city's total. . . . At least one new radio commercial can't bother you for long: It's Ford's new wptich lasting six seconds: "Watch the Edsels go by."

Jack Palance signed to open the Playhouse 90 season, in "Death of Manolete," in which he'll play the bullfighter of the title . . . Counter-Spy Boris Morros has guested all over the news-casting channels plus an appearance tomorrow on CBS-TV's "Face The Nation," so what's the novelty of his appearance on Smiley Sullivan's catchall tomorrow night? "Nature Girl" is more Ed's speed, anyway . . . Camera Three's "The Private Life of Laurel and Hardy," due tomorrow.

row on CBS-TV has been changed to "The Private World of Laurel and Hardy," now that someone remembered Oliver Hardy is dead and Stan Laurel is pretty ill . . . Sal Maglie's dramatic debut (not counting shaving his beaver in the razor commercial) next Sunday (Aug. 25) has had its title changed from "The Little League" to "The Little League Leaguer" . . . Jack Pearl, dons buffoon of early radio, dons his Baron Munchausen role again next Thursday when he guests with Robert Q. Lewis (CBS Radio).

John J. Anthony has a problem! John wants a network TV show and no bites so far . . . Remember way back when the cowboys were murdering Indians instead of comedians?

'First Movie Star' Recalls Days Of Really Fast Bucks

'PERSONALITY' — "Sheer personality" and nothing else is what made Francis X. Bushman the "first movie star" and past-generation "pin-up boy" of thousands of today's grandmas, he says. Now 74, the still handsome veteran declares today's actors are not great personalities. They are overshadowed by the directors' style.

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—Groucho Marx is laughing it up about three of the world's greatest men having their life stories turned down by Hollywood because they were never narcotic addicts or problem drinkers.

But 74-year-old Francis X. Bushman isn't laughing.

"The First Movie Star" who returned to the spotlight last fall when he won $30,000 remembering "Poetry of Love" on TV's "The Big Surprise," hasn't been able to interest Hollywood in his lantern-slides-to-TV saga which he's calling "Grandma's Pin-Up Boy."

The dapper, silver-haired, well-preserved Bushman, married a year now to his fourth wife and the grandfather of 15 children, sighed about Hollywood's present lack of interest in his film biography which he describes as "an inspirational story guided by the fates."

"I guess," he told me, "I should have had a problem. But except for spending money, I never had one. I didn't struggle for success, either. It just happened."

I'm surprised Hollywood hasn't seen the box office value of Bushman's money problems. Man, he had 'em. And they were just as insidious for Bushman as narcotics or liquor when he was the screen's first "Great Lover" who starred in 400 motion pictures before he was 35.

Even today's free-spending Texas millionaires lift eyebrows over the way Bushman lived it up between the time he was elected "King of the Movies" in 1915 and when he played his greatest role in "Ben Hur" in 1926.

He netted $6,000,000 in one five-year period of those low income tax days and spent every cent of it! He didn't even know, in fact, how much he had made, or spent, until his first wife went to court to obtain more financial aid for herself and five children.

Her attorney, armed with a special court order, went to Washington and came back with the news that Bushman had netted six million in five years.

"What happened to it?" an angry judge asked Bushman.

"You know me," replied the smiling movie idol. "I spent it."

Where did the money go?

SEEKING STARDOM—Walter Kelley, a good-looking and competent actor who's been knocking on Hollywood's door for eight years without much of an answer, relaxes at his $45-a-month gardener's cottage on a Beverly Hills estate. Kelley, now 35 and with a list of film and television credits for roles not quite prominent enough to get him much public attention, is typical of many Hollywood performers who never quite get over the edge to fame.

Power Firm Workers Get Pay Increase

SALISBURY — A 5 1/2 per cent general wage increase has been granted electrical workers who threatened to walk off their jobs in parts of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware.

Agreement on a new contract was reached late yesterday following a four-hour negotiating session. Accord came in the 34th day of negotiations and only hours after the more than 500 workers had voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

The agreement was reached between Local 1307, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO), and three electrical utilities — Eastern Shore Public Service Co. of Maryland, Eastern Shore Public Service Co. of Virginia, and Delaware Power and Light Co.

The companies serve the two southernmost counties of Delaware and ten counties on the eastern shores of Virginia and Maryland.

In addition to the 5 1/2 per cent across-the-board increase to all workers, the new one-year contract provides a full holiday at either Christmas or New Year's, instead of the present half holiday, and four weeks vacation after 25 years of continuous service.

The utilities' proposal to reclassify seven highly skilled linemen, a stumbling block during negotiations, will be submitted to arbitration.

The basic pay for linemen under the old contract is $2.53. The highly skilled linemen receive a premium of five cents an hour.

The companies sought to do away with the highly skilled classification on the ground that it is no longer justified.

The new contract will be signed sometime next week.

Pull Trump Or Go Barefoot

At the latest count there were supposed to be just over 40,000 Englishmen walking the streets of London with no soles on their shoes merely because they forgot to draw trumps.

The only thing that keeps South from being with them is that he is not an Englishman.

The bidding of the hand is exemplary and no fault can be found with West's choice of the three of clubs for the opening lead. East won with the ace and South was careful to drop the ten spot. East shifted to the five of spades and South went right up with the ace.

At this point all South had to do to make five odd would be to pull trumps, lay down the king of clubs, finesse against West's jack (East would have shown out so there would be no problem), discard a spade on dummy's long club and eventually ruff one of his diamonds with dummy's last trump.

However, South was worried about the possibility of a three-one trump break and the possibility that East would hold the club jack. He overlooked the near certainty that East would have played that card at trick one if he held it. South also overlooked the possibility of a singleton club.

South led a small diamond. West won and gave his partner a club ruff. East played a spade to West's king and another club lead and ruff put South down two.

All because he forgot to pull trumps!

City, County To Consider Phone Action

Officials May Take Steps To Oppose Increase In Rates

The Mayor and Council and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners next week will take up the subject of protesting to the Maryland Public Service Commission the proposed rate increase of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The C&P yesterday filed an application for authority to increase its rates about three cents a day to the average customer.

The utility also wants the authority to wipe out toll charges between more than 100 Maryland exchanges.

Calls Extended

Under the plan a local call from Cumberland could be made free to Lonaconing, McCoole and Westernport. Classed as local calls now are those between Cumberland and Flintstone, Frostburg, Mt. Savage, State Line and Wellersburg.

William H. Lemmert, president of the Board of County Commissioners, said today the matter will be turned over to the county attorney for his legal interpretation.

The board will then consider the rate increase, and whether to intervene in the case.

Mayor Roy W. Eves today said he hasn't talked to any of the councilmen, and will wait until Monday to get their reaction.

Plans Other Increase

The city and county are already intervenors in the appeal of the rate decision handed the C&A Gas Company in its application for increases.

The telephone company, in addition to increasing its rates for local service, plans to hike many long distance rates.

Frank W. Carey, general commercial manager for the C&P, said in testifying before the Public Service Commission that the firm is proposing five-cent increases in certain station-to-station initial period rates at the shorter distances.

"Also, for the longer distances, we are simplifying the schedule by reducing the number of mileage steps. This results in some increases and some decreases."

Person To Person Change

Person to person rates will also be boosted, he said, and the present reduced rates for person-to-person calls made at night, Sunday and holidays are being eliminated.

Person to person service, Carey pointed out, is a much more valuable service in that the calling party is assured of reaching the desired party.

In effect, he added, the telephone company is performing a secretarial service which involves substantially more operating time in relation to station-to-station service. For these reasons the company believes the higher person-to-person rates are appropriate, Carey concluded.

Cresaptown Meet Set By Firemen

The Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet Sunday, September 8, at the Cresaptown Fire Hall.

Several activities are either underway or being planned by companies affiliated with the two-county organization.

This week the Bowman's Addition Fire Company is holding a carnival and a highlight of the affair will be a parade tonight.

The Clarysville volunteers have broken ground for a new fire house in that community. On Wednesday, August 21, the Deer Park Fire Company will hold their annual country supper at the fire hall. The supper will be served from 4 to 8 p. m.

The Bowling Green Fire Company will sponsor a ham supper today from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. at the fire hall.

Former Pastor Here

Rev. Frederick J. Eckert, pastor of First English Lutheran Church, Richmond, Va., will preach at 8:30 and 11 a. m. services tomorrow at St. John's Lutheran Church where he served as pastor for four years before moving to Richmond.

Man To Spend Weekend In Jail Sewing Clothes

A local man who was arrested early this morning for being drunk and disorderly is spending the weekend in City Jail practicing the domestic art of sewing after having a "ripping" good time in jail following his arrest.

The man, Olie Sponaule, raised such a commotion in the cell block that he was placed in the soundproof cell. When he was taken out this morning to appear for trial his clothes were in tatters.

Asked by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick what had happened, Sponaule said his clothing was torn when he was "dragged down the steps" to the soundproof cell. There were no signs of bruises and contusions to support his contention, and testifying police said his clothing was not in damaged condition at the time of his cell transfer.

Sponaule was ordered to return to his cell, obtain a needle and thread and make his clothes more presentable before being sentenced Monday morning.

HONORABLE MENTION FLOAT—The float entered by Thomas S. Post Playground in last night's annual playground parade won honorable mention from the judges. The theme of the float was "America, Land of Freedom," and featured one of the girls from the playground dressed as "Liberty" holding aloft the torch of freedom. Grouped in front of her were boys and girls dressed in the uniforms of the major youth organizations of the country. The national pastime was also represented, as were the armed forces with two youths dressed in Army uniforms standing at parade rest on either side of "Miss Liberty." Each of the 15 playground entries gained the plaudits of the crowds that lined the parade route.

Polio Clinic For Area Set August 26-27

The second in a series of polio census clinics in Maryland will be held here August 26-27 at the Eagles Home. The clinic will be held for persons in Allegany and Garrett counties who either have or have had the disease.

Approximately 300 letters have been mailed out by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children to patients and former patients. Some 50 returns have already been received, and a great many more are expected to signify their intentions to attend the clinic before the deadline.

George L. Radcliff, State chairman of the March of Dimes, announced that the Maryland census was serving as a pilot for a nationwide survey and said the object was to determine what, if any, further treatment each polio victim needs.

"In the light of new knowledge in the treatment of polio and modern rehabilitation techniques, a great many 'polios' may now benefit from treatment and training," Radcliff said.

The first polio clinic was completed in July in Salisbury.

Dr. Benedict Skitarelis, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Assn., said the Salisbury clinic showed that an immense amount of medical service must be provided for pre-Salk vaccine victims of the disease.

Veterans Day Event Planned

A ceremony will be held by area veterans on the Court House lawn on November 11 in observance of Veterans Day—formerly known as Armistice Day.

Permission to hold the ceremony on the section of the lawn where the World War I memorial cannon is located was granted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said George Speis of the Veterans Association had asked for permission to hold the ceremony on the Court House lawn.

Commissioner Wilkinson also said he had received a request from the LaVale Methodist Church for the county to oil and chip the roadway in the rear of the church. The county board as a matter of policy does such work adjacent to all churches when the request is made, according to Commissioner William H. Lemmert.

Valentine Hurt Again At Work

Kenneth Valentine, 818 Maplewood Lane, who was burned badly in a flash fire while working for a contractor at the North Branch Plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, is back in the hospital again.

Valentine, who spent many weeks in the hospital recuperating from the burns, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Thursday after he sustained back injuries.

The condition of the electrical foreman for Sargent Electric Company is good, his family reports.

Boy Bitten By Snake

John Kaylor, 13-year-old LaVale youth, was admitted Wednesday to Sacred Heart Hospital after being bitten on the toe by a copperhead snake. He is expected to be discharged today.

Top Honors In Parade Go To East Side

Winning Float Had Theme Of "Japan" In Playlot Event

Thousands of persons lined downtown streets last night to see the float of East Side Playground depicting Japan win the top award in the annual city playground parade.

Second prize in the Parade of Nations was won by Ireland, the float entered by Centre Street Playground.

It featured eight children dancing an Irish jig on the float which used a big shamrock as its background.

China, entered by Ridgedale Playground, was judged the winner of the third prize.

Setting for the scene was a Buddha mounted in a metallic temple with a lad sounding a gong to call the faithful to worship.

Thomas Post Playground's float, America, won honorable mention. Decorations featured a big American flag. The float was staffed by the major youth organizations of this country.

Columbia Street Playground's float, Spain, featured a bullfighter and his victim who died many deaths along the line of march, with an audience playing castanets as the matador displayed his skill.

Hawaii, entered by Pine Avenue, depicted a Hawaiian wedding, with a miniature bride and bridegroom rowing a boat on a flower-decked float.

Bohemian was the word for France, Mt. Royal's float, which featured the Eiffel tower and the Cafe de Paris, with a sidewalk scene showing diners and a painter at work.

Mexico, entered by Johnson Heights, depicted a fiesta, with costumed dancers.

Switzerland, entered by Gehart Playground, drew cheers from the audience as it passed. Costumed dancers preceded the float which depicted a Swiss weather house, with costumed youths before doors marked rain and sunny.

Holland, by Penn Avenue, showed attractive children sitting in a bed of tulips on the float which had a windmill as its background.

Highlanders rode on Scotland, the float entered by Virginia Avenue Playground.

Italy, entered by West Side Playground, featured a gondola riding on a sea of flowers.

Africa, Lamont Playground's entry, showed mock savages boiling one victim with a second on tap in a packing box prison.

Puerto Rico, entered by North End, featured a pig roast, a calypso band and palm trees as decorations.

England, by Mapleside Playground, depicted the Britain's royalty and Parliament.

Commissioner Edwards also received, for the Mayor and Council, a spray of flowers presented by Mapleside Playground, with a message expressing thanks of the city's children for the many weeks of pleasure they have received from the playground program.

A Marine Corps color guard and the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post No. 153, American Legion, were in the vanguard of the 45-minute parade.

One float, France, was a casualty, police said, when the back wheels of the float came off as it climbed the curb on Baltimore Street while approaching the Baltimore Street Bridge. None of the children on the float were injured in the mishap.

Trades Council Meet

A meeting of the Building and Construction Trades Council will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Labor Temple.

Carney Heads Building And Loan Concern

George L. Carney was elected president of the Western Maryland Building and Loan Association at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday in the association's office on Pershing Street.

He succeeds the late F. Brooke Whiting, who headed the organization since it was incorporated in 1928. Carney is owner of the auto accessories store which bears his name.

Carney, who had been a vice president of the association, was succeeded in that post by Charles A. Feeser, who had been serving as a member of the board.

Other officers are Delbert R. Kitzmiller, and William R. Carsden, vice presidents; Clement C. May, secretary, and William J. Edwards, treasurer. Directors, besides Feeser, are John A. Hancock, George F. Hazelwood, Joseph I. Mattingly and Irby S. Ruthertford.

Injured In Crash

Glenn Flanagan, 47, of Rawlings, was treated for scalp lacerations yesterday at Sacred Heart Hospital, the injuries being sustained in a two-car crash at the intersection of Winchester Road and U. S. Route 220 at Cresaptown. After treatment, he was admitted for X-rays. Attaches reported him in "good" condition today.

Sunday Ban Placed On Exhibits At Fair

No entries in the fruit and vegetable exhibit or household department of the Cumberland Fair will be accepted tomorrow.

Exhibits in the sections will be accepted Monday from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

JOINS AMCELLE STAFF—Alexander J. Carman, formerly of Charleston, W. Va., has joined Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation as development engineer in the extrusion technical section. He has a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from VPI. He resides on Hillcrest Drive.

Council Sets Publication Of Calendar

Officer Election Fixed; Civic Theatre Project Discussed

Plans for the publication of the first activities calendar next month were completed at a recent meeting of the Community Council, an organization formed to coordinate the activities of local clubs.

Mrs. Arthur S. Davis Jr. and Mrs. Theos A. Angelus were appointed as contact members of the calendar committee, which is headed by Harold Brooks.

Robert A. Mathews, president, said the activities calendar will be published monthly as a community service for clearing dates of proposed public activities by the member organizations.

Affiliated member organizations will receive a calendar covering a two-month period, Mathews said. Organizations wishing to schedule activities or projects, or to block a date for conflicts, are to call either Mrs. Davis at PA 4-0668 or Mrs. Angelus at PA 2-6941.

Information provided on such calls, Mathews explained, should include the date, place, time, character of the project and anticipated attendance.

Interested organizations should submit inquiries if they wish to be included on the mailing list, the council president said.

The resignation of Miss Kay Avers as secretary-treasurer was announced. A nominating committee composed of Miss Avers, Kenneth J. Williams and Mrs. Lawrence Brady was appointed to present the names of candidates, and the election was set for a meeting Friday, September 13.

The group voted to endorse the County United Fund, and discussed the possibility of supporting a civic theatre.

Driver Sued For $15,000

A Hagerstown man has sued the driver of a car in which he was a passenger when it crashed on Sideling Hill Mountain November 3, 1956.

The $15,000 damage action was filed today in Allegany County Circuit Court by Ernest V. Machs, Hagerstown lawyer, in behalf of Edward W. Baker, 249 Frederick Street, that city.

The declaration states that Baker was riding in a car operated by the defendant, Thomas E. Chaney, RD 1, heading west on Route 40.

On the east side of the mountain, the auto failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into a bank.

As a result of the wreck, Baker said he suffered a fractured neck and permanent injuries.

Man, Wife Hurt In Car Accident

A Bedford Road couple was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for X-rays and observation this morning after their car missed the entrance to a bridge across Pea Vine Run and nosed down into the stream.

Admitted were Archibald and Edith Nixon, whom attaches said apparently were not seriously injured. The couple said they were proceeding out the Pea Vine Run road and came upon the bridge after rounding a curve.

Mr. Nixon was unable to maneuver the car onto the bridge quickly enough and the vehicle ran over the bank into the stream. State Police are investigating.

Fair Judging Schedule Set For Cattle

Open Class Slated Tuesday, 4-H Group Planned Wednesday

The schedule for judging of beef and dairy cattle in both the open and 4-H classes in the live stock show scheduled at the Cumberland Fair next week.

Joseph E. Steger, county farm agent, listed the judges and schedules for the open class.

All day Tuesday there will be judging of the entries, and as an attraction for those who can't attend during the day, there will be judging of Jersey cattle at 5 p. m. This will be handled by Albert Staggs, Westminster, who is recognized by the Jersey Breeders Association.

Tuesday at 9 a. m. Guernseys will be judged by Fred Downey, Williamsport, and at the same time Robert Appleman, University of Maryland dairy specialist, will handle the Ayrshires.

Also at 9 a. m. Doty Rensberg, Jefferson, Md., will judge the Holstein entries which includes the new herd of Donald Brooks of Pinto.

The beef show judging will start at 9 a. m. with Angus cattle and continue at 1 p. m. with Herefords. Boyd Whittle, livestock specialist from the University of Maryland, will be the judge.

Among the Angus cattle entries will be a bull and heifer owned by Louis Shinnamon Jr., LaVale.

Appleman will do all the 4-H judging Wednesday morning.

James Arnold, assistant county agent, said, in the Holstein class are cattle raised by Robert and Ronald Adams, Union Grove; Louis and Lois, Paul and Pauline, and Joan and Jean Miltenberger, RD. Ridgeley, and Edward, Sally and Susie Miller, Midland.

Youths showing Jerseys will be Mary Jane and Joseph Cosgrove and David Greis, all of Valley Road; Joseph Steger Jr., Oldtown Road, and John Widesen, Gormanville, W. Va.

In the Ayrshire class are Robert Moore and Dale Geary, Mt. Savage; Holsteins, Linda and Billy Loar, Rawlings, and Hereford, Wesley Gordon, Flintstone. Arnold also reminded those 4-H members who attended the winter tractor maintenance course of the 4-H tractor operators contest to be held Thursday at 1 p. m.

Injured Driver Reported 'Fair'

Attaches at Uniontown (Pa.) Hospital today reported Heras O. Garlitz, 40, of Cresaptown, in "fair" condition from injuries suffered Thursday night when he crashed his car into the back of a tractor-trailer on U.S. Route 40 near Uniontown.

Employed as a bartender at the Eagles Home in Cresaptown Garlitz suffered internal injuries, fractured legs, lacerations of the neck, contusions and abrasions of the arms and body. At taches said he had been critical but was slightly improved after having a good night's rest.

Pennsylvania State Police said Garlitz was driving alone when he demolished his car after crashing into the back of a rig hauling a steam shovel. The mishap occurred just west of the Somerfield dam bridge on Route 40.

Area Brush Fire Endangers Homes

Several homes in the Sunny Side area near Barrelyville were endangered by a brush fire yesterday before it was brought under control by members of the Corriagville Volunteer Fire Company.

Fourteen members of the company and three of its vehicles, responded to the alarm and battled the blaze for nearly an hour before the fire was stopped almost at the lawns of some of the homes. About a quarter of an acre was scorched by the fire.
